

Editor's Note: Tension between Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan make it impossible for Christian pilgrims to follow Christ's footsteps from the Last Supper to the Crucifixion. But "holy fire" symbolizing the hope of messages of Christianity still leaps the barbed wire, giving promise that peace may yet come to this troubled land. Here is a report on divided Jerusalem at Easter, 1957, last in a series on famous sites of the Holy Land.

By WILTON WYNN

JERUSALEM — On the night of His crucifixion, Jesus and His apostles gathered in an upper room in Jerusalem for their last supper together. After the meal, Jesus walked outside the city to the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives and awaited His inevitable betrayal and arrest.

Today barbed wire, guns and a hundred yards of no-man's-land prevent anyone walking from that upper room to the Mount of Olives. The site of the last supper is on the Israeli side of Jerusalem, while the Mount of Olives is on the Arab side.

Uneasy Truce

On either side of the no-man's-land dividing the holy city are armed sentries, ready to blaze away at the slightest provocation. Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan have been in a state of war since 1948, with only an uneasy armistice silencing the guns on either side.

This state of tension has made it almost impossible for pilgrims and travelers from the United States to visit the holy land. At the time this was written, American travelers were still forbidden by the State Department to visit Israeli or Jordan because of the security problem.

Aside from the travel ban, the divided state of the city makes it difficult for pilgrims to retrace the footsteps of Christ during the events of the first Easter.

Pilgrimage Is Stopped

Before the 1948 Arab-Israeli war, a pilgrimage from the Latin convent inside the old city went to the Cenacle, site of the last supper, every year on Maundy Thursday. Because of the division of the city, this pilgrimage is no longer possible.

Events of the last supper still are commemorated, however, by Christian communities on the Arab side of the line. The Greek Orthodox hold a spectacular service every Wednesday before Easter in the courtyard of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

On a raised platform in the courtyard sit 12 men representing the apostles. The Orthodox patriarch — acting as Christ's earthly representative — washes the feet of each man, re-enacting Jesus' washing of His apostles' feet at the last supper.

When Jesus walked from the upper room to the Mount of Olives, He had to walk almost the length of the city of Jerusalem and out through the Golden Gate on the east. He then had to pass over the Kidron Valley to reach the Garden of Gethsemane on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives.

Inside the Garden of Gethsemane today stand olive trees so old they must have formed part of the grove where Jesus prayed on the night of His betrayal. The "Church of All Nations" inside the garden covers an altar of natural rock. Tradition says this was the rock on which Jesus prayed "not My will but Thine be done."

On the evening of Maundy Thursday, Jesus' hour of agony is commemorated by an impressive service called "the hour of silence."

On Good Friday, pilgrims from around the world join to take up the tragic story in a procession following the way of the cross — the path Jesus walked from the time of His trial before Pilate until He was placed in the tomb. This sorrowful walk begins just inside St. Stephan's Gate and winds through the narrow, flagstoned

FRUIT GROWERS TO HELP WITH BLOSSOM EVENT

Every fruit grower in the county will be called upon to take part in some phase of Apple Blossom Sunday, William M. Lott, general chairman for the event, told the county Fruit Growers Association at its meeting Thursday evening at the Biglerville Grade School.

The actual date of the big event is still undecided, Lott said. It may be May 5 or May 12 depending upon the weather.

It was indicated that, as of now, there is every evidence that this year's blossom time will be one of the most beautiful. State University specialists reported at the meeting that "there is less of a spread in the development of blossoms in the lower end of the county and the upper end than there has been for a number of years"—which indicates that most of the trees may come into blossom simultaneously. Normally the blossom period extends over about a two-week period.

Distribute Folders

The same experts, John U. Ruef, Dr. Robert Kirby and John Pepper, also held that "as of now" there is a good seed of potential blossoms which could develop into a beautiful display at blossom time and a good crop at harvest time.

Folders giving details of Apple Blossom Time were distributed. The folders contain maps of the Apple Blossom Trail through the fruit belt, sites where growers will be available to serve as guides and where apples and juices will be distributed. An apple blossom dinner will be served from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. at the apple blossom headquarters at the South Mountain Fairgrounds.

Dr. Kirby stressed the danger of scar infection occurring during the warm, wet weather of the last several days and continuing today.

To Use "Back Action Sprays"

He said: "This is the crucial time. Frankly, I'm scared." He urged use of materials with "back action" to kill scar that started during the current period. Best materials are liquid lime sulphur, which gives from 60 to 72 hours "back action"—killing scar started that long prior to the application—and mercury, which at one-third strength gives about two days "back action" and at full strength three to five days.

He also reported finding "mildew in the upper end of the county this afternoon on the terminal leaves of apple buds, so we are sure that mildew came through the winter. Maybe not as bad as in some years, but a threat just the same."

Use of streptomycin at 100 parts per million to control fire blight was recommended by Dr. Kirby.

Cites Mouse Injury

"We are going to determine within the next 10 to 14 days the amount of good looking peaches we will have next fall," he told the growers.

Christians Commemorate Agony Of Christ's Death

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians throughout the world commemorated today the agony of Christ's death upon the Cross.

In Good Friday services the Christian faithful of all nations heard anew of the suffering of Jesus Christ — two days before the joyous occasion of His resurrection on Easter Sunday.

Approximately 4,000 visitors, mostly Arab Christians, were in the Arab-controlled Old City of Jerusalem, where most of the holy places are located. Only 400 pilgrims, with few Westerners among them, crossed the Palestinian armistice frontier from Israel.

No Tourist Influx

The small number reflected the tense atmosphere in the Middle East in the aftermath of the Sinai war. Travel restrictions were removed too late for any great tourist influx.

But as in the past there was the traditional tracing of the Way of the Cross, with pilgrims carrying heavy wooden crosses along the route followed by Jesus from the scene of his trial to the crucifixion on Calvary.

Call State Police To Two Accidents

State police were called twice to accidents Thursday.

Cars operated by James Adrian Martin, 37, Gettysburg, and LeRoy C. Martin, 17, Gettysburg R. 1, collided on the Mill Rd. a mile west of here, near the State Police barracks Thursday afternoon at 2:05 o'clock. State police said both were traveling north when James Martin's car struck the rear of the other vehicle. Damage was estimated at $500 to the two autos.

The other accident occurred on a township route between Hampton and East Berlin at 10:20 o'clock Thursday morning when cars of Elizabeth Ann Ahrens, 17, York, and Elvenera R. Boro, 26, York R. 4, collided. Police said Miss Ahrens' vehicle was passing the Boro car when the latter vehicle skidded on the berm and struck the rear of the passing auto. Damage was estimated at $1,300.

No one was reported injured in either accident.

EMMITSBURG'S VFW IS BUYING NEW AMBULANCE

The Emmitsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars today announced plans to replace the ambulance which has served that community for the last nine years.

Officials of the Emmitsburg VFW post said an order has been placed with the Sperry Garage at Emmitsburg for a 1957 Ford ambulance, to be purchased at cost, which will be available in about six weeks. The new vehicle will be equipped with two litters, both wheeled and one capable of being collapsed. The vehicle will be equipped to carry four litters in emergencies and will have a permanent oxygen installation. First aid equipment will be removed from the old ambulance and placed in the new 245-horse power vehicle.

540 Emergency Trips

Clyde J. Eyer, chairman of the ambulance committee of the post, said the old ambulance, which went into operation January 1, 1948, has answered 930 calls in its nine years of operation, of which 540 were emergency trips. It was also called for 60 traffic accidents, and made 522 trips at night. It was called by state police 60 times, 540 times by physicians and hospitals and 330 times by individuals. It traveled 49,290 miles and was in operation 2,093 hours. The average trip was 53 miles and the average call was completed in 2 1/2 hours.

Eyer said during its nine years of operation the old ambulance has used 4,929 gallons of gasoline and 740 quarts of oil, and has worn out four sets of tires and tubes costing $460 a set. Its original cost was $7,500 and $1,500 worth of equipment was added.

The VFW has received numerous commendations in connection with its operation of the free ambulance service.

A number of Emmitsburg individuals and groups have made donations to the Ambulance Fund being raised by the VFW to pay for the new ambulance.

APPLE BLOOMS' HEADQUARTERS AT FAIRGROUNDS

Final plans for establishing apple blossom headquarters at the South Mountain Fairgrounds have been completed by the Adams County Fruit Growers Association Blossom Committee, which has tentatively set May 5 as the Sunday nearest the peak of bloom.

Transfer of headquarters from Biglerville to the fairgrounds will provide increased facilities for an anticipated crowd of 50,000 visitors to the county's fruit belt to view the blossom spectacle. Last year's crowd was estimated at 40,000.

The tentative date is based on weather and temperature records which so far have been identical with last year's chart. The peak of blossoms in 1956 was on May 6.

At headquarters a chicken barbecue dinner will be served featuring apple dishes. Three state fruit queens will be the guests of the Adams County Apple Blossom Queen, Miss Joan Heller, official hostess. Fruit growers and their wives will greet visitors at the fairgrounds throughout the day.

Prepare Folder

Committee members Mrs. Martha Lower, Mrs. Margaret Bream and George Schriver will open a dining hall in Memorial Auditorium where dinner will be served by caterer Charles Heinze, Allenberry Lodge, from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Blossom Sunday. For some Christians it is a time exclusively for fresh meditation upon the triumph of the Passion Week, for a full stop at the holiest time of the year.

More secular minded people mix their devotions with the thrills and frills of fashion promenades, with the excitement of spring sports, and with the pleasures of a well-set dinner table. To the children Easter is the first real break since Christmas.

Concerning the strictly spiritual side of Easter, it would seem that much headway has been made in the state toward a goal of keeping down commercialism. Much of this effort has to do with Good Friday.

In Philadelphia, the citizens Good Friday Observance Committee said that more business places than ever before are closing at Sunday.

CANNOT RETURN UNUSED $1,508 FOR U.S. STAMPS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Williams (R-De.) says he has made several unsuccessful attempts to return to the Treasury $1,508.26 he had left over from last year's stationery allowance.

The senator complains the Treasury won't let him do it.

Williams said that in nine previous years, he has returned a total of $5,786.57 in such unspent funds. But, he added, this time he bumped into a new Treasury ruling that the money either (1) must be spent, or (2) the senator will be taxed on the unspent portion, even if it is left in the Treasury.

The Delaware lawmaker, in telling the Senate of his troubles yesterday, said he has asked Comptroller General Campbell for a solution.

How To Use It

Williams said last June he directed the financial clerk of the Senate to return to the Treasury the amount left over from his stationery allowance for the fiscal year ended last June 30.

The senator then learned of the new ruling.

Williams said he has been told he could avoid being taxed on the balance by ordering "$1,508 worth of stationery from the Senate stationery store, even though I do not need it, have it delivered to my office, and then call the truck and send it to the city dump.

"In that manner the government would be rid of the money, I would be subject to no penalty, and everybody but the taxpayers would be happy.

"Or, under this ruling I could file a claim for the Treasury check of $1,508.26, pay income tax, on the amount, and turn the rest over to the Republican National Committee or put it in a special account to finance a personal political campaign.

"If this ruling stands unchallenged, what is there to prevent using these unexpended funds to buy mink coats or deep freezes?"

FRUIT GROWERS

"During that period the amount of coverage we give the fruit will determine the amount of blossom blight will determine to a large extent the amount of brown rot we have on our peaches next fall. He listed several combinations of spray materials to control blossom blight.

Reuf held: "We cannot do a poor job today and expect anything but poor results a few years hence. I'll wager not one of you has seen as much mouse injury as there has been this year. In one orchard I saw between 400 and 500 young trees completely girdled.

"Most of this damage is on trees up to 10 or 12 years old and those are the trees that you are going to have to figure on to pay your way a few years from now."

Shows Slides

Pepper told the group to spray strawberries for spittlebug in "a week or ten days" and showed slides of various orchard pests and told of sprays to control the insects, moths, aphids, etc., that cause damage to fruit.

County Agent Frank Zettle expressed the appreciation of the county agent's office to the fruit growers' association for a letter sent the Adams County Commissioners urging an increase in the space allotted for the county agricultural extension office.

Zettle said the commissioners had promised Wednesday to consider ways of providing more space for the office.

"UPON A CROSS"

Upon a cross a King was nailed
... the truest friend of man ...
an awing sight but still a part ... of God's almighty plan ...
upon His head a crown of thorns
... put there by Satan's will ... in effort to destroy the One ... who lingers with us still ...
upon His lips a word of love ...
for those who placed Him there
... no trace of malice was beheld
... only forgiveness rare ... upon the ground beneath His feet ... were those with sword and lance ... unconscious of their grave mistake ... playing a game of chance ... upon a cross our Savior died ... what more is there to give ... upon our hearts His blood was spilled
... to teach us how to live.

But another member of the group, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), said the closely spaced tests could mean the Russians are still trying to develop weapons worth stockpiling.

The Atomic Energy Commission said Russia on Tuesday detonated somewhere in Central Asia one of the largest of the five nuclear devices it has exploded since April 13.

"This series of explosions shows they have a good supply of finished weapons, not just nuclear material," Durham said in an interview. "You would not expect them to waste weapons if they were in short supply."

But in a separate interview, Van Zandt said the known total of Soviet tests, which he placed at about 20, is still less than a third the number already conducted by the United States.

"We were testing one weapon after another when we didn't have many in stock," Van Zandt said. "I think that's what the Soviets are doing now—testing for first one characteristic and then another. There's no point stockpiling weapons until you are sure you have something worth stockpiling."

Van Zandt said he is not advocating complacency and is sure the Soviet Union has weapons that could cause "terrible damage."

But he said he thinks the United States is still ahead of Russia by about two years, and that the Soviet does not yet have a "family" of nuclear weapons, from artillery projectiles to superbombs, comparable to the U.S. arsenal.

Pennsylvanian Is Jailed In Ireland

LETTERKENNY, Northern Ireland (AP) — A Pennsylvanian avowedly on holiday has been jailed for three months for possessing tommyguns and ammunition.

He is Vincent Conlon, who gave his address as Copley road, Upper Darby, a Delaware County suburb of Philadelphia. He was accused with four other men of illegally possessing five submachine guns and 727 rounds of ammunition. The five were arrested last weekend in Lifford, County Donegal.

The sentence was imposed yesterday under emergency regulations adopted late last year when raiders of the Irish Republican Army started fresh attacks on police and military installations in British-controlled Northern Ireland.

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli Foreign Ministry official has warned that continuing clashes along the Israeli-Syrian frontier "may be very serious."

Israeli and Syrian forces duelled across the border for 2 hours and 40 minutes yesterday north of the Sea of Galilee. Firing stopped, the Israelis said, after U.N. truce supervisors intervened with a cease-fire plea.

FREE BANKER
ON $3,000 BOND
IN SHORTAGE

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — The suspended vice president of the Bank of Newberry was free on bond today after his arrest by FBI agents on a charge of trying to cover a $9,800 shortage with a false entry.

D. Martin Beach, suspended as vice president and secretary Tuesday, was released on a $3,000 really bond posted by a sister and her husband at a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Andrew Leisler Jr. at Lewisburg.

No plea was required at the hearing yesterday.

Bank President Woodrow Knight said at the time of the suspension that Beach had admitted in a statement he converted U. S. government E bonds to his own use during 1942-52. The FBI said the false entry was made Monday, the day an audit began.

Audit Was Ordered
Knight said the audit was ordered by the directors at his request after he became president in January and that Beach, as secretary, wrote the letter engaging the auditors.

Beach, 51, is a native of Williamsport, married and has one daughter. He could face a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine and five years in prison if convicted. The bank is a state bank and has assets of $8,800,000. It is insured by the Federal Insurance Deposit Corporation.

There was no indication whether other action against Beach would be taken by the state or the bank.

FIRST BRITISH SHIP IN CANAL

SUEZ (AP) — The 3,604-ton freighter West Breeze entered the Suez Canal today flying the red ensign of Great Britain. She was the first British ship to start through the waterway since the British-French invasion last October.

Transit tolls for the West Breeze were paid in francs, and an Italian pilot of Egypt's Suez Canal Authority was put aboard for the 103-mile trip northward. The British freighter was the second ship of a four-vessel convoy.

Chartered by a Chinese navigation company in Hong Kong, the West Breeze is carrying a cargo of peanuts from China to Rotterdam.

The ship's British captain, I. Cowie, locked himself in his cabin and refused to talk to newsmen. He gave orders to his 42 crewmen—a few British, the rest Chinese—not to fraternize or talk with anyone.

Britain, the United States and France all have recommended that their shippers avoid using the canal pending the outcome of negotiations between the U.S. government and Egyptian President Nasser. With those talks apparently about to end without any concessions from Nasser, the United States and Britain are expected to rescind their warning and advise instead that shippers pay the canal tolls to Egypt under protest.

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — The recently reactivated Lincoln Highway Assn. wants a meeting with the State Highways Dept. to discuss what it calls the economic importance of maintaining an interstate highway system through the southern tier counties.

The association at a meeting last night also urged a discussion of the possibility of reconstructing and modernizing Route 30, the Lincoln Highway. It opposes construction of the proposed Keystone Shortway from Stroudsburg to Sharon through the central part of the state.

Represented at the session were members from Bedford, Somerset, Westmoreland, Fulton, Franklin, Adams and Lancaster counties.

3,000 pilgrims gathered in the rain outside the cottage of Therese Neumann, the 59-year-old Bavarian woman who each Good Friday appears to suffer the agonies of Crucifixion. In 1926 she was first reported to have displayed the Crucifixion stigmata—marks on her body corresponding to the wounds of Christ.

President Chiang Kai-shek and his wife, both Methodists, delivered Good Friday sermons at their church in a suburb of Taipei, the capital of the Chinese Nationalist stronghold island of Formosa.

Thirty-three Adams county communities and Hanover, which is included in Gettysburg territory in the air raid warning system, participated in the blackout test.

Only a few "unintentional exceptions" were reported and so far as was known only one person in the county refused to cooperate with his warden's request to black out the lights in his home. The refusal occurred in Gettysburg, but defense authorities asked that the name not be published at this time.

Today's Talk

DESERVE WHAT YOU GET

Blessings are God's most joyous offerings—and they surround us every day of our lives. They come to us whether we deserve them or not. But if we do deserve them, then we should be happy human beings.

By deserving what we get in the world's benefits, we are sure to keep getting more and more. And this helps us to distribute, from our blessings, to others. Many are the gifts and blessings that are bequeathed to us at birth, but we have to prove our worthiness to keep them!

The things we deserve are the things, largely, that we earn. All of us are, to a large degree, custodians of all the blessings and gains of life. None of us are permanent owners. For example, I have many a precious book that others rejoiced in before I had the opportunity to own it—and many years later someone else will love and own it.

Anything that we have earned and loved may well be treasured, but we must remember that others, later, will have the opportunity to enjoy what we have. The more it is sure to be a part of your life, and to others, when you have played your part in the scheme of things.

Not everyone gets what he most deserves. That is one of the disappointments of life. But to play one's game devotedly, honestly, and with a regard for the happiness of others is to be among the elect of the earth! If we keep, without sharing, we grow poor indeed. We must deserve what we get as well as what we make of it. Happiness is not mere ownership for a little while.

We must deserve the love of others, and their confidence in us. Never should we fail the trust that is placed in us. Character is something that we distribute every day of our lives!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Build a Reserve." Protected, 1957, by the George Matthew Adams Service

They left Him on the cross to die. In death, they still believed. That long had been the reason why

For loved ones they had grieved.

No hope beyond the tomb had they. But going there to see, They found the great stone rolled away

And living still was He.

"He is not here," an angel said. "But gone his friends to greet. Life has been given to the dead, Eternal and complete."

Triumphantly the voices ring That once with grief were dumb. Oh, grave, you can no longer sting! Death has been overcome.

He Was Here

streets of Old Jerusalem to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

Stop At 14 Stations
The procession stops at each of 14 "station of the cross," where a sermon is preached in the language of the group. Each station marks a dramatic moment in the way of the cross, including the places where Jesus fell under the weight of the cross. During this procession some of the pilgrims usually carry heavy crosses like that on which Jesus was crucified.

The procession ends inside the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, an aged structure covering the traditional site of Calvary and the tomb. The procession climbs a flight of stone stairs to the site of the crucifixion. Here a glass case covers a bit of the rock of the original hill of the execution. A huge crack in the stone is said to have been caused by the earthquake that rocked the earth as Jesus breathed His last.

On the evening of Good Friday a solemn burial service is held in this church. A statue of Jesus is taken from a cross on Calvary and placed on the stone of entombment, a marble slab near the entrance of the church were traditions say Jesus' body was anointed for burial. Weeping women fall prostrate and kiss the stone as the body is lifted and taken inside a small chapel under the main dome of the church.

Pilgrim's Goal
Inside this little chapel, with massive candlesticks on either side of the entrance, is the Holy Sepulchre, the goal of Christian pilgrims since the Fourth Century. Little is left of the original sepulchre, because most of the rock has been chipped away over the centuries. A marble slab covers the area where Jesus' body is said to have lain.

After Jesus' body was placed in the grave and the rolling stone over the door sealed, His disciples must have suffered the depths of despair. And even after they saw the empty tomb, there were still doubts; some wondered if the body had been stolen.

This period of despair is commemorated in a unique service on the roof of the church by a group of Ethiopian monks. Called "the search for the body of Christ," this service involves a mournful march around the rotunda of the church, with tom-toms beating. When the words are read from the Bible: "He is not here, for He is risen," the group breaks into wild rejoicing.

"Miracle Of Holy Fire"

The most spectacular Easter service is called "The Miracle of the Holy Fire," an age-old Easter ritual symbolizing the resurrection of Christ. Once actually considered a miracle, this ritual involves handing a flame from inside the Holy Sepulchre through a hole in the side. Waiting outside are thousands of pilgrims, most of them holding candles, tapers and lamps. The holy fire, symbolizing the risen Christ, is passed from candle to candle and like a wave of flame spreads over the thousands who pack the church.

Many oriental Christians light little kerosene lamps with the holy fire and keep them burning through out the coming year.

Light Is Spread

Runners take lighted candles from the holy fire and carry them to churches in other parts of Palestine. In centuries past, the fire was taken to churches as far away as Athens and Alexandria, symbolizing the spread of the gospel to the ends of the earth. "By special arrangement, runners take the flame across no-man's-land, to churches on the Israeli side of the line. When this symbol of the resurrection arrives on the Israeli side, the Easter cycle has been completed — from the upper room on the Israeli side to events on the Arab side and back.

The fact that even war cannot prevent the spread of the holy fire, from one country to another perhaps has a deep significance to the simple people of the holy land today. Perhaps this means that there still is hope they may see the end of the conflict which has divided their land, that the day may yet come when their swords and spears will be beaten into plowshares and pruning hooks and "when nation shall not rise up against nation, neighbor shall they know war any more."

HE WAS HERE: This is the famed "Via Dolorosa" in Jerusalem, where each Good Friday pilgrims retrace Christ's route to Calvary. This point is just beyond the spot where tradition says Simon of Cyrene took the cross from the exhausted Jesus.

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN: An Easter assembly was presented at Taneytown High School Wednesday. The program was directed by Mrs. Ethel Welker, junior high mathematics teacher. Rev. Morgan Adrean of the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church gave the Easter message. Miss Betty Sturdivant, music teacher, sang a solo "Calvary." Student soloists were Sandra Shorb, grade nine; David Hopkins, grade seven; Agnes Nussbaum, grade nine; Mary Henshaw, grade seven, and Judy Welker from the elementary school.

Men Trade Blows In Board Meeting

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A member of the Chester Housing Authority and the agency's executive director traded blows in an unscheduled bout at a board meeting yesterday.

Witnesses said the Republican board member, Louis K. Mutzel, a former Bucknell University football player, floored the Democratic executive director, Lawrence A. Conner Jr. Not to be outdone, Conner jumped up and cracked a pottery ash tray with a 6-inch figurine on Mutzel's head. A piece of the crockery flew off and cut Conner's chin.

The fracas started, said onlookers, after Mutzel charged "influence" in the hiring of a maintenance worker and Conner answered that Mutzel was a "liar."

Burbette Beats Cincinnati And Tebbetts Howls About "Cheating Spitterballer;" Giles Wants Proof

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Here we go again, Lev Burbette says he doesn't throw a spitter. Birdie Tebbetts insists he does. "A cheating spitterballer," says the Cincinnati manager. But Warren Giles says "you have to prove it to me."

Whatever Burbette, Milwaukee's shutout ace, does when he spins his stuff for the Braves, old Satch Paige had a term for it — "outpsychologizin' the hitter."

That's what Burbette had in mind when he got—and I don't throw it," in reply to Tebbetts' renewed cry after the Redlegs lost to the big right-hander 1-0 yesterday. It was the eighth successive time Burbette, who led the National League with six shutouts midlast season, "charges" last season, has whipped Cincinnati and Tebbetts is "pretty tired of him getting away with murder."

Giles Wants Proof
Birdie, who insists Burbette "went to his mouth before every pitch," chirped so loud his boss, General Manager Gabe Paul, decided to lodge an official protest today and ask Giles, the league president, for a clarification of rule 8.02, which states a pitcher cannot "apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball" under penalty of a 10-day suspension.

"Until someone — the umpires or someone — presents evidence that Burbette is using the spitter, I'll do nothing about it," said Giles, adding that "a lot of pitchers make a bitter think they're throwing a spitter, but there's nothing illegal about it."

Legal or not, Burbette's victory, fashioned on Hank Aaron's first home run of the year in the sixth inning off loser Hall Jeffcoat, handed the winless Redlegs a second defeat and left the Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers the only unbeaten clubs in the league.

Dodgers Beat Bucs
The Dodgers, with Sal Maglie throwing a four-hitter, knocked off Pittsburgh 6-1. The Chicago Cubs cracked 15 hits to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-2. And the New York Giants kept Philadelphia winless 6-2.

In the American, the winless Detroit Tigers lost their third in a row, this time to Cleveland, 8-3, in 11 innings. The New York Yankees again had to rally in the ninth, beating Boston 3-2. Chicago City its first defeat, 6-2, behind Jack Harshman's four-hitter. And Washington finally became a winner with a 6-4 job on Baltimore.

Maglie, who will be 40 a week from today, struck out five and walked three while gaining a 23-5 lifetime record against the Pirates in his 200th major league start. The lone Pirate run was unearned. Duke Snider, the NL's leading home run king, smacked his first of the year and Gil Hodges hit his second for the Brooks, who cracked southpaw Luis Arroyo and three relievers for 14 hits.

Stan Goes Hitless
Young Moe Drabowsky, the Cubs' bonus right-hander, permitted just four hits in whipping the Cards. Gene Baker led the assault on Murry Dickson and four Card relief pitchers, driving in four runs with a triple, double and single. Stan Musial, his back in shape, played his 77th consecutive game, but was hitless.

Huben Gomez, backed up by Hank Sauer's 25th home run, and a three-run homer by Gail Harris, beat the Phils and Curt Simmons with an eight-hitter.

Rookie Roger Maris made his first major league home run the major's first grand slammer of the season, capping a five-run 11th for the Tribe. Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly scored the run that broke a 3-3 tie. Ray Narleski

By BOB MYERS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Properly chastised by the weather and the course in the first round, the field of 23 professional golfers tee away today in the second round of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Leading the field were Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., the 1954 U.S. Open champion and 27-year-old Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who reigned as king of the nation's amateurs in the same year before turning pro.

In these days of sub par scoring, their even par 72 for the Desert Inn Country Club course seemed unique.

Windy Round

But all hands hoped that one of the factors that sent scores high in the first round would be missing today. That would be the hard winds that sweep the fairways yesterday, and coupled with cold and intermittent bursts of rain, made life most unhappy.

"Liked to have blown me off the course," said big Mike Souchak, whose 213-p-ound frame would stand some hard blowing. Mike had to settle for a 76.

Tied at 73, one shot back of the pacesetters, were four threats. They were Gene Littler, 1955-56 jackpot winner here; Art Wall Jr., 1954 winner here; Jimmy Demaret, and young Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.

The one-two pre-tournament Las Vegas betting choices, Cary Middlecoff and Dow Finsterwald, fared poorly. Each had a 75.

won it with Al Aber the loser, both in relief.
Yanks Edge Bosox
Pete Ramos gave up only three hits in 6 1/2 relief innings to win for the Senators. Ray Moore, who walked 10, was the loser.

The Yankees needed a pop-fly RBI triple by Gil McDougald and Elston Howard's single for two ninth-inning runs in edging the Red Sox and Frank Sullivan, who retired 19 in a row at one point. Bob Grim won in relief.

Harshman rode in one back-to-back homers by Minnie Minoso and Sherm Lollar, good for three seventh-inning runs and a solo shot of his own in the eighth. Loser Alex Kellner and Joe DeMaestri homered for the A's.

HANK SAUER'S BAT HELPS TO BEAT PHILLIES

NEW YORK (AP)—They laughed when the New York Giants signed 38-year-old Hank Sauer and called him a faded shadow of the man who was voted Most Valuable Player in the National League back in 1952.

"They're desperate, grabbing at straws," the critics charged. "They're trying to plug a hole with a name. They know he's finished."

The big man made them eat their words yesterday at the Polo Grounds.

250th Homer

Many thought Manager Billy Rigney would have done better to start Whitely Lockman, an old Giant favorite, in left field instead of the craggy-faced veteran who was making his fourth—and probably last—stop with a National League team.

But when it was over Sauer's single had tied the score at 1-1 in the fourth inning and his 250th home run, off Curt Simmons with one on in the sixth, had knocked out the Phillies' ace left-hander. Sauer's hitting plus a three-run homer by Gail Harris was more than enough for a 6-2 victory.

"Did your 250th homer mean anything to you?" a fellow asked Sauer in the clubhouse.

Out For 300 Now

"I didn't even know I had 249 until someone told me last winter," he said. "But now that I've got it, my next drive is to 300. No use stopping now. Two good years ought to do it."

Although Sauer hit only five homers last season in 75 games with St. Louis, he is No. 6 among the active major leaguers with 250. Only Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Del Ennis have more.

York Springs High took advantage of some ragged defensive play on the part of Littlestown to take a 3-2 victory in the Adams County Baseball League Thursday afternoon at Littlestown, darkness halting the game after five innings. The game was the only contest played, rain forcing postponement of three other tilts. East Berlin will play at New Oxford on April 29 to make up their postponement.

The Springers' winning run came in the fifth. Tate walked and after stealing second base, continued on to third when the pitcher's throw to the base was uncovered. Snyder, Littlestown catcher, attempted to pick Tate off third a short time later and his overthrow permitted the runner to race home.

Jimmy Cashman homered with Tate on a walk in the third frame for York Springs. Littlestown retaliated with a pair of runs to knot the score in its half of the frame.

JOHNSON HAS SUGGESTION ON BASEBALL LAW

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP)—Frederic A. Johnson today came forward with a proposal under which baseball could operate within the law and still keep its famous reserve clause.

Johnson, a New York constitutional lawyer whose arguments in the Gardella case in 1949 first dented baseball's legal shell, said he would like to see Congress pass a law under which:

1. The present baseball farm system would be abolished, perhaps over a period of several years.

2. A team could have only 40 players under contract, 25 of which would be its major league squad, and the other 15 would be in the minors.

3. All players under contract to a team would have pension rights, whether in the majors or minors. At present the pension applies only to the majors.

Ever since antitrust actions involved professional football and the International Boxing Club there has been talk in Congress of passing a law bringing baseball under regulation. The Supreme Court in a recent decision hinted that such a law would be acceptable.

Forecasts More Leagues
Johnson proposed in an interview that Congress include in the legislation the statement that baseball is subject to the Antitrust Sherman Act and that the reserve clause is reasonable providing that no player may be reserved directly or indirectly unless assured of pension rights.

Under the reserve clause the club that owns a player has the exclusive right to re-employ him for the following season. The only bargaining power a player has is to go on a sidown strike. Baseball contends that if the reserve clause did not exist, a few rich clubs would buy up all the stars in open bidding and competition in the big leagues would collapse.

Johnson said that under the revision of baseball's structure that he has in mind, outstanding players such as Ted Williams, Mickey Mantle, or Stan Musial might be paid partly by their club, and partly by the entire league. He also forecast three or even four major leagues.

CAGE PLAYERS' ASSOCIATION IS RECOGNIZED

By DON ROTH

ST. LOUIS (AP)—National Basketball Assn. players and owners met yesterday in an almost frictionless conference resulting in initial recognition of the Players' Association.

Both Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, and Ed Macauley, spokesman for the players group, described the closed meeting as harmonious.

The 66-year-old Podoloff said he saw an expansion of the league's franchises within a few years. Chicago, Cleveland and Pittsburgh were listed by Podoloff as cities where NBA teams may one day perform.

Need Good Personnel

"The only bottleneck preventing expansion is the obtaining of good personnel," Podoloff said. "We must get good players who won't dilute the quality of the rest of the league."

Podoloff said he thought television had helped in "merchandising" the game and bringing in more fans.

Along with recognition of the Players Association and an agreement to meet annually with it, the NBA Board of Governors and the players' representatives introduced a method of arbitration.

Under it, a player who believes he has a grievance not covered in his contract may take it to Podoloff for settlement.

If he's denied, the player may then appeal to a three-man committee made up of members of the Board of Governors chosen by the player involved. A majority decides.

Macauley cited three NBA players as providing the spade work in former years leading to yesterday's recognition.

They were Bob Cousy of Boston, Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Jim Pollard, formerly of the Minneapolis Lakers and one of the league's greatest all-time performers.

At Waterfield, Blue Ridge Summit, the league president, presided at the meeting.

ARMY MAY LOSE ITS STAR BACK

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Gene Mikelonis, halfback from DuBois, Pa., counted on as the Military Academy's chief offensive weapon, may be lost to the Army football team for good, Coach Earl Blaik said today.

Mikelonis, the team's best running back and also a good passer and kicker, suffered a knee injury in the opening game with Virginia Military Institute last September. He will be a junior next fall.

He underwent an operation on the joint which has failed to heal. Blaik disclosed Mikelonis hasn't been able to participate in spring practice and may be unable to play any more football.

Army spring practice ends next Saturday.

Jim Lentz And Alex Bell Will Join John Yovicsin's Football Staff At Harvard

Jimmy Lentz, one of Gettysburg College's great athletes, and during the past five years coach of several sports, at his alma mater, and Alex Bell, football coach at Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, for the past two years, will join Johnny Yovicsin's football coaching staff at Harvard University, The Gettysburg Times has learned from a reliable but unofficial source.

Yovicsin, head football coach at Gettysburg College for several years, was recently signed to a three-year football contract at Harvard. His grid assistants have not been officially announced. The Times learned from dependable sources that Lentz will be the defensive line coach and Alex Bell will coach the ends. Ted Schmidt, line coach at Harvard for several seasons, will be retained by Yovicsin as line coach.

Adds Fourth Coach

A new and surprise addition to the staff, according to The Times' informants, will be Roger Robinson, football coach at Port Jervis, N. Y. high school. He formerly coached at Rochester and at Lebanon Valley College.

Lentz came to Gettysburg College as a GI and won letters as a star football player. Since his graduation, five years ago, he coached the freshmen football team to four successful seasons; coached the tackles and guards of the varsity grid team last season, the swimming teams for five years and the Lacrosse teams for two years.

Blow To Delone

Bell's departure, his second, from Delone, is a severe blow to the school's gridiron aspirations. His first tenure several years ago was very successful. Then he accepted a college position on the west coast and Delone's gridiron attainments went into low gear. Bell returned to his alma mater, Villa Nova, and Delone then enticed him to return two years ago. In those two years he brought the school to new gridiron heights and next fall still better things were expected of their football team.

Yovicsin, who could not be reached for comment today, is reported to be leaving Gettysburg for Cambridge next week where he will establish residence on the Harvard campus and assume his duties at once.

Conference Next Week

Lentz, Bell and Robinson, according to The Times' informant, will go to Cambridge for final conferences and contract signing next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Yovicsin has said that he will seek a permanent residence at Cambridge and then move his family from his home on the Old Mill Road, Gettysburg Country Club.

When asked about the Lentz rumors Henry T. Bream, athletic director at Gettysburg College, said: "I have an important announcement to make in the very early future."

The Times has received these rumors for some time but withheld publication pending further, and what is believed to be although, "unofficial," confirmation.

AND THEN...IT'S EASTER!

Yesterday, these four were their Mothers' despair. Their faces were grimy, their playclothes spattered with mud. They were even ready to put up their fists and fight when the rivalry between spacemen and cowboys became a little too keen.

Today, they are immaculate. They sing like young angels. They even look like angels... because today is Easter! And these boys are proclaiming the glorious message that Christ Is Risen.

Easter is the time of promise, beauty, awe at the miracle of birth and rebirth. Easter is the time to let the joy of living seep into you. It is the time to tell yourself that you believe... and, if there's been any doubt about it, to start believing again.

Spend part of your Easter in Church. Spend the rest of it looking, with new eyes, at the wonderland God has created around you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday School Lesson

By H. R. and M. C. Gold

HE LIVES — THEREFORE MAKE DISCIPLES

Matthew 28:1-10, 16-20

Key verse: All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age. Matthew 28:18-20.

It is a glorious feeling to realize on each Easter Day that Christ's resurrection from the dead has brought salvation and the hope of eternal life to all mankind. But there is a wider significance in the Resurrection than personal immortality. Several things stand out clearly and irrevocably: That God is eternal; that Jesus is Christ, our Redeemer; that the kingdom of God is at hand; and that evil is to be destroyed.

The Gospel writers made no attempt to harmonize their accounts of what occurred on that first Easter. The all-important thing coming from the reports was the fact that Christ had risen from the tomb. This was unmistakable, for eye witnesses had seen the Risen Lord, even talked to Him. The terrors of the Passion had passed away like a cruel memory and in their place were peace and joy.

Creates Confusion

Exciting news often creates confusion and the reports of the angel at the empty tomb and his words to the two Marys was no exception. When they went to the sepulchre they immediately perceived that something unusual had occurred for which there was no ordinary explanation. An earthquake apparently preceded the opening of the tomb, for when God intervenes, the event is usually accompanied by natural phenomena. God's messenger is variously represented by an angel in Matthew, by a young man in Mark's gospel, by two men in Luke.

Matthew emphasizes the marvelous, the divine power demonstrated when the angel descended, came and rolled back the stone, and then sat upon it, his appearance being like lightning. The women were dazed and awed by the angel's radiance but the Roman guards were rendered completely impotent and powerless — "became like dead men." There was a distinct reversal of power — divine instead of earthly. The angel allayed the natural fear of the women by saying, "Do not be afraid... He is not here; for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where he lay." The latter was an invitation to investigate the tomb if they wished. As the women ran joyfully in search of the disciples Jesus Himself met them, saying, "Hail" — the familiar greeting they knew so well. "And they came up and took hold of his feet and worshipped him." Recognition was followed by worship. Jesus then directed them, "Go and tell my brethren to go to Galilee, and there they will see me."

Disciples were Changed
The eleven disciples who went to meet Jesus were a changed group. They were seeing Jesus and His mission with a new understanding. They discovered that Jesus' ministry did not end with the crucifixion and that a far greater ministry than the one in Galilee was before them. The knowledge of the presence of the risen Lord brought power and authority to His followers. They realized that the commission He gave them — "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit" — gave them the power to go out, preach and baptize.

The resurrection power is current in our generation as in every age, for it is a reality in the Church. The promise of the Lord's continuing presence is reassuring — "And lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age."

In the United States 37 million juveniles and adults are now enrolled in schools.

SCOUR TOWN FOR DYNAMITE CAPS

COLLINSVILLE, Okla. (AP)—In a search for a needle in a haystack, people in this tiny Oklahoma town were looking for dynamite caps.

And Police Chief Don Brinkley was finding them all over town last night—in the coat pocket of a little girl, at an old coal pit, by the hotel.

Luckily, none of the estimated 100 dynamite caps taken by a couple of young teen-agers "golfing around" the United Brick Co. had exploded.

"But somebody could get his head blown off," said Brinkley as he led the search. About 85 had been recovered so far.

The boys told the chief they took the caps and some dynamite sticks early Wednesday. Brinkley said apparently some of the caps had been handled by various children in school for two days.

Some Thrown Into Fire
It was not discovered until early last night that dynamite caps were scattered around this little community near Tulsa. Then, police were notified some children were playing with the explosives.

One of the boys who admitted taking the caps led police to an old coal pit where about 15 and the sticks of dynamite were recovered.

"We built a fire and threw in some to see what would happen, but nothing did," one of the boys told police.

Apparently, the caps are exploded with an electrical charge.

church was filled with parishioners. The Senior Choir sang the high mass and the proper of the mass was sung as a solo by Stewart N. Long. Miss Anna C. Weaver was organist, and Miss A. Marie Budde directed the choir.

The pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, was celebrant of the mass and the message of his sermon concerned the institution of the Blessed Sacrament, which was being commemorated with the evening's services. Father Boyle also carried the Blessed Sacrament in procession to the repository to remain there until midnight for the adoration of the faithful. The children of the school participated in the procession, with Donald Frook as cross bearer, Lawrence Altoft and James Long as acolytes, and Joseph Rang and Gary Little as censor bearers.

Sixteen girls of the lower grades, dressed in white and carrying bouquets of lilies, served as a guard of honor. The traditional hymn "Pange Lingua" was sung during the procession by the children of the school.

After the singing of the Gloria of the Mass, the bells and the organ were silenced until the same time of the Easter Vigil Mass. At the conclusion of the Mass last evening, the officiating priest stripped the altars, of the altar cloths, candelabra, and all other accessories, and the tabernacle door was left open, in preparation for the observance of Our Lord's Passion and Death on Good Friday. LEADER DEFERS BILLS' CONFAB

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has postponed for at least a week a bipartisan conference on his legislative program. It had been called for next Wednesday.

Leader said he deferred the discussion at the executive mansion "at the suggestion of" George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, and Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican Senate leader.

The postponement was announced several hours after Leader told his news conference yesterday that none of the seven Republicans invited had accepted. Sen. Albert R. Pechan, assistant Republican floor leader, has refused.

"I strongly feel that this meeting be held," Leader declared after the postponement.

"It offers leaders of both parties the opportunity to rise above partisanship and discuss the most effective methods of writing into law a constructive program for the people of Pennsylvania."

He said he would meet with Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore, and speaker W. Stuart Helm, Republican legislative leaders, on Tuesday "to discuss a new date for the postponed meeting."

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, is the son of a small town Iowa banker.

Patrolling Costs Up

A check of state police records showed that during the past 22 months, the commission paid $1,757,230 for state police patrolling and other trooper services.

"A good portion of this figure was paid on a mileage basis for state cars used to patrol the highway," Henry explained.

"As the road grows, so does the cost of patrolling it by the state police," he added.

The cost of patrolling the road, records showed, increased from $63,763 for the 1941-42 fiscal period to $892,719 for the 1955-56 period. For the first 10 months of the current fiscal period, the commission already has paid $892,719 for this service.

"We have estimated that the patrolling cost for the next two years will run about $2,166,000 and as more sections of the roadway are opened, the cost will rise," Henry said.

The state police department assigns men to the toll road after a commission request is approved by Henry.

Under law the state police force is not allowed to exceed 1,900 men. This does not include those assigned to the turnpike.

"When we assign men to the turnpike, we don't lose personnel for other duties because these men are not counted in our maximum quota," the police head explained.

The turnpike operation is financed through bond issues and tolls.

POLICE DROVE HALF MILLION MILES ON PIKE

By BOB HOLTON
HARRISBURG — The combined mileage of state police cars patrolling the Pennsylvania Turnpike last month could have sent one of them around the world nearly 23 times.

The 151 troopers assigned to the toll road drove their cars 551,825 miles in routine patrolling during March, state police commissioner Earl J. Henry said. The earth's circumference at the equator is 24,902.39 miles.

"All of this expense is paid to the state police department by the Turnpike Commission," Henry told a newsman. He said the commission pays the salaries and other expenses of troopers assigned to the more than 450 miles of superhighway.

TO STUDY WHEN ATOMIC ENERGY COMES TO STATE

HARRISBURG — Gov. Leader said Thursday a study will be made to determine when Pennsylvania can expect atomic energy to take a prominent place in the state's economy.

Leader told his weekly news conference that the study was authorized by the State Planning Board and will be conducted by the Mineral Economics Department at Pennsylvania State University at a cost of $15,000.

He said the study will determine when atomic energy will "take a vital place in the state's economy as a supplement and possible replacement for coal, natural gas and oil."

"Pennsylvania is the site of one of the world's pioneering applications of atomic power to peace time use at Shippingport, in Beaver County," Leader said.

Making Atomic Plant

The Duquesne Light Co. is completing work there on the nation's first commercial atomic power plant.

"Our state has also become a center for manufacturing of atomic equipment, primarily because of the foresight of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. in this field," Leader explained, adding:

"We would be foolish, however, if we did not realize that the potential of atomic power will someday have a much greater effect on our economy.

To estimate more closely when the day will come, the Planning Board, through its committee on energy resources, has engaged the Department of Mineral Economics at Penn State University to determine when we can expect the power of the atom to become economically competitive in Pennsylvania."

Leader estimated the study will take a year to complete.

OPERATION: BABY-LIFT
By H. P. SCONCE
Hermiston, Oregon
A Large Farm

"The most expectant mother in the world." So Mrs. Harry Holt of Creswell, Oregon, was called as she awaited the arrival of "octuplets."

H. P. Sconce

She and her husband were already the parents of six children. Now they knew they were to have eight more — four boys, four girls, all orphans from Korea.

In mid-December, 1954, the Holts heard a lecture during which Dr. Bob Pierce and Dr. Frank Phillips of World Vision, Inc., showed a film called "Dead Men on Purlough."

The movie, which touched the Holts deeply, depicted the desperate plight of children left behind by G.I. soldiers in Korea.

"I couldn't forget those undernourished bodies, those tiny outstretched arms," Mr. Holt says today. "Neither of us could. And then, suddenly, without either of us mentioning it to the other, we knew we could and should do something about those little unwanted creatures."

The Holts were secure financially. Though there had been some years of severe struggle when they first came from South Dakota in 1937, a sawmill Harry built had prospered and now they lived comfortably on a large farm in a 13-room home called the Pink Mansion. It was here that they held a family meeting to talk about the Korean orphans.

The family in conclave decided at first to sponsor several orphans by sending funds to Korea. But gradually the Holts concluded that they should adopt a Korean child and bring him to this country. Harry flew to Korea.

There he traveled by jeep throughout the war-shattered country. He saw children starving to death on the streets and even in orphanages.

He learned that many of the children were being hidden by their ashamed mothers. The Koreans had never had a race problem, but when these fatherless children played with other Koreans, trouble ensued.

Killed Playmates
The Korean kids often mobbed their playmates of mixed blood and in some cases murdered them, leaving their bodies to be found in irrigation ditches or to be washed up on the beaches.

Harry Holt decided that he must personally bring home as many as possible of these pathetic youngsters and get others to do the same.

He had a problem, however, because the Government would not permit an American family to adopt more than two foreign children.

Harry wrote his wife, She, in turn, got 78 of her neighbors to help petition Senator Richard Neuberger to sponsor a bill in Congress which would authorize the bringing home of at least eight orphans.

Senator Helps
The Senator responded vigorously by personally contacting senators and house members and arranging for a special meeting of the Judiciary Committee. Exactly seven minutes before midnight of the day Congress adjourned in 1955, the bill was passed by a unanimous vote of both Democrats and Republicans.

By October, 1955, Harry had gathered together 12 little ones. Arrangements had been made for a family in Michigan to adopt one of them. Another was going to a couple in Corpus Christi, Texas, and two children were ready for adoption by a family in Portland, Oregon. All the rest were to belong to the Holts.

With the help of an Irish nurse, Harry and his charges headed for home. It was a topsy-turvy trip. Some of the brood got stomach flu. A three-year-old lost his shoe; a sixteen-month-old fell out of a chair in a Tokyo airport.

All of them seemed to have colds; their noses ran. Diapers were changed on an ever-rotating assembly line. A typhoon held up the plane for two days. Engine trouble sent it back to Wake Island for the loss of still another day.

Finally they landed at Portland. More than a thousand people were there to meet them. There were newsmen, radio and TV people. And Mrs. Holt was there with her son and five daughters.

That evening it was 1:00 a.m. before quiet came to the Holt farm. But just before they retired, Harry and his wife tiptoed into the nursery. Stepping between the rows of cribs, Harry gathered up an infant and cradled her lovingly in his arms.

"Lord," he prayed, "you know how much we love these children. I've done my best to care for them so far. Help us to take care of them in their new home and bring them up for Thee."

The Holts are now directly supporting 36 orphans in Korea and have an office force there for other adoptions. Mrs. Holt and a neighbor handle American details at the farm. More than 350 adoptions are now in different stages of completion, and about 150 families are waiting home investigations.

Birth Announcement
Occasionally Mrs. Holt will be asked to show the birth announcement the family sent out to friends in October 1955. A large stork carrying eight children in its bill is super-imposed upon the outline of an air liner and the name of each infant is listed above a note of welcome and thanksgiving.

But the spirit of the Holts' contribution is crystallized in the three verses from Isaiah printed at the bottom of this card: "Fear not: for I am with thee; I will bring thee seed from the east, and gather thee from the west; I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the end of the earth; . . . for I have created him for my glory."

TOMORROW — Edith A. Johnson, Portland, Ore., housewife, tells how a crippled old man brought the spirit of Christ to the congregation of her church.

Eisenhower Tells Rayburn How To Cut Appropriations

By DOUGLAS N. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower spelled out for Congress Thursday how it can cut appropriations by $1,858,000,000 — but he still said there can be no "substantial reduction" in actual spending unless Congress revises or repeals some laws.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, the President listed half a dozen places for possible economies.

These, the White House said, might bring about a slash of 300 to 400 million dollars in spending in the fiscal year starting July 1.

"Income Exceeds Expenses"
"Given continuation of healthy economic growth and of fixed expenditure control, these figures combined will begin to lay a firm foundation for the time when we can be sufficiently assured that our income will so exceed our expenses as to justify a reasonable tax cut for every taxpayer while we continue to reduce the government's debt," he said.

Eisenhower, however, laid out no timetable for a possible tax reduction.

In addition to suggesting places for checking appropriations, the President proposed that Congress take steps to improve the budgetary situation through a 10-point legislative program. Many of the points, such as boosting postal rates, he had mentioned before.

Other Suggestions
But there also were new ones: Imposition of user charges on airlines, for example, for use of federal airway facilities and navigation aids.

Rejection of new river and harbor projects not approved by the

Hypnosis Can Make Injuries More Painful And Severe

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
CHICAGO (AP) — Hypnosis, long known to banish pain, can also make human injuries more painful and severe.

Body tissues can become more vulnerable to injury.

This new finding about the mysterious hypnotic behavior of the mind was described today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by Doctors Loring F. Chapman, Helen Goodell and Harold G. Wolff, Cornell University Medical College, New York.

Three hypnotized persons put first one arm and then the other into a bath tub of water just under body temperature.

Hypnosis Had Effect

When the first arm was put in, it was suggested to the hypnotized person that the water was very hot, that the arm was burned, injured, and painful. When the other was immersed, it was suggested the water was very comfortable and the arm was all right.

Immediately afterward, both arms were exposed to the same amount of burning heat or an acid, enough to produce a little injury.

Each time the first arm — the one suggested as being hurt — had more skin damage than the other.

Tests showed tiny blood vessels had expanded under the hypnotic suggestion, making the tissues more vulnerable. One or more chemicals released in the body may also have played a role in the exercise looks good.

In other reports:

Regular exercise looks good for the human heart, said Dr. Harry Y. C. Wong and associates, Howard University College of Medicine, Washington, D. C.

Chicks forced to exercise twice daily for 30 minutes had far less cholesterol in their blood, and less atherosclerosis, or clogging of arteries with fatty deposits. Such clogging is a main cause of heart attacks. The chicks were being fed high-fat diets, and were compared with nonexercising chicks.

Cigarette smoke reduces the amount of oxygen used by the heart, said Gerald Klen and Norman Lasker, graduate students, and Dr. Theodore R. Sherrod, pharmacologist, University of Illinois College of Medicine.

Effect Of Nicotine

The effect was due to nicotine, they said. The reduction in oxygen occurred when there was increase or no change in the amount of work the heart was doing. Adverse changes in heart rate, rhythm and electrocardiograms were noted, the scientists said.

They said these effects were not apparent in persons with normal heart function, because the normal heart can compensate for additional stress, but the added stress might be harmful in persons with heart disease.

LIFER FREED BY GOVERNOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — A former seaman who steadfastly maintained his innocence was freed after 10 years of a life term today with a pardon from Gov. Leader.

Leader, acting on the unanimous recommendation of the State Pardons Board, ordered the release last night of William S. Green, now 45, from the Eastern State Penitentiary. The governor called it "dramatic evidence of the important, vital function of the Board of Pardons."

Green was convicted in April 1947 for the slaying of William Blount, 55, a night watchman at a South Philadelphia theater. Green maintained he was in bed at the time of the shooting Nov. 4, 1946.

In its recommendation, the board said evidence had been uncovered "which tends not only to cast doubt on his guilt but even to establish his actual innocence of the crime." Green just an appeal to the State Supreme Court in January for a new trial.

The evidence referred to by the board included statements by two witnesses that they had been bribed $100 to identify Green.

CHINA USED BY PRESIDENTS IS NOW ON DISPLAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans interested in the china off which their presidents have dined over the years can get a good gander at representative pieces now displayed in glass cases at the Smithsonian Institution.

The White House collection of presidential porcelain and china in the Executive Mansion may be viewed only through special arrangement made by your congressman, or other officials, but anyone can get a good look at some of the interesting pieces in three good-sized wall cases recently set up in the Smithsonian Institution's First Ladies Hall.

On display are quite a few pieces of Washington china, a gold-rimmed white Sevres plate and bowl used by the first president as banquet service, a cup and saucer from the state china with the names of the then existing states in links around the border, and other items.

There are examples from the John Adams administration as well as pieces from the administrations of Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Harrison. The Lenox dinner and service plates used during the Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover administrations are also displayed, as well as the Lenox dinner plates used by Roosevelt and Truman, and a service plate, dinner plate and cup and saucer of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

Wilson's China

The Lenox, the first American-made china, introduced in the White House during the Wilson era has the seal of the President near the wide gold banding of the outer rim of the dinner plate, while the service plate bears the seal in the center and has stars rimming the outer circle between two gold bands.

One set of china was bought by Theodore Roosevelt in 1902 after the first remodeling of the White House. Chosen from a large number of designs by Mrs. Roosevelt it is of Wedgwood with simple colonial pattern traced in gold. This design bears a replica of the Great Seal of the United States adopted

17 CITIES SET DAYLIGHT TIME

HARRISBURG (AP) — Seventeen Pennsylvania communities now plan to end Daylight Saving Time this year on Sept. 29. Thirty-three plan to extend it until Oct. 27.

The State Chamber of Commerce reported the figures yesterday in a preliminary survey. Daylight Saving Time begins April 28 and in Pennsylvania its observance is a local matter.

"Several cities in the September termination list indicated they might extend their DST observance an extra month if the practice is widespread," the chamber reported.

It said these cities have indicated plans call for ending Daylight Time Sept. 29:

Altoona, Barnesboro, Coalport, Ebensburg, Franklin, Greenville, Harrisburg, Hazleton, Johnstown, New Castle, Oil City, Portage, Paton, Sharon, Somerset, Sunbury, and Williamsport.

Want Coffee Break Included In Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Carpenters in the Philadelphia area are now trying to make legal what lots of other workers have been doing for years. To wit — the coffee break.

Along with increased wages, they're asking contract language specifying 10 minutes for java at 10 a.m. every working day.

The Federal Mediation Service has stepped into the dispute in hopes of averting a strike which could tie up all nonhome building in a five-county area of southeastern Pennsylvania.

The District of Columbia (Washington, D. C.) occupies an area of 62 square miles.

In 1782, Mrs. Taft, in the following administration, only filled in for the broken pieces in this set for 100 covers. The Wilsons ordered 1,700 pieces from the Lenox Pottery in Trenton, N. J. Franklin Roosevelt ordered another Lenox set and helped plan the design. The Truman-Eisenhower Lenox bears a wide outer and a narrow inner band of gold with the presidential seal in the plate's center surrounded by stars on a white ground.

CONGRESS ENDS SQUABBLE OVER FUNDS FOR AGED

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of Congress scattered to their homes for a 10-day Easter recess today after freeing the 275 million dollars needed for relief checks to the aged and others in May and June.

The money for the federal share of the public assistance payments had been tied up in a dispute which has gone on with increasing bitterness between the House and Senate since February.

House members could claim a substantial victory, but senators vowed they would try again to get some of the money denied by the other branch.

Ike Asked 30 Millions

The final version provides no money to continue a minerals buying program on which the Senate had insisted. President Eisenhower had asked 30 million dollars. The House declined to vote anything.

Also dropped was a Senate provision to authorize use of cottonseed cake and other high protein feeds in government drought relief programs. This had the backing of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

In the final windup on the bill yesterday, the Senate was victorious on one point, but this was not an issue involving any substantial money savings.

Senate Fights Limitations
The House repeatedly sought to tie to the bill a limitation on the amount of federal funds that could be given to the states to help pay the cost of administering federal grants.

Welfare Department officials said that under the limitation, the federal government could not

Pilot Lands Plane On New Jersey Pike

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP) — A pilot landed his Piper Cub safely on the medial strip of the New Jersey Turnpike last night while land traffic sped by in both directions.

State police identified the pilot of the plane as Harold Segefka of Roselle, a technician with the Bell Laboratories in New York City. They said he was alone and suffered no injuries.

Segefka, police said, apparently ran out of gas while traveling from Atlantic City to Linden. The technician had been attending a convention in the resort city.

His plane was towed into a service area nearby. Segefka was to attempt a takeoff this morning, weather and traffic conditions permitting.

Police said the forced landing at about 5:30 p.m. did not delay traffic on the toll road. They said they did not intend to bring any charges against Segefka.

"Sure did," said Boshers, who was charged with assault and battery and reckless driving.

EASTER FACES FOR EGGS IS PLAY PROJECT

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Small fry are perennially charmed by the Easter bunny, and his arrival means another season of enjoyment for the children. They adore helping Mom—and the Rabbit—color the eggs and prepare a festive Easter table.

The children may try their hand at creating charming table centerpieces, party favors or eggs for the Easter basket with hard-boiled eggs, aluminum foil and the tube from a foil box. Faces and costumes may be created from scraps of felt or crepe paper, bright ribbons, sequins, little tubs from the sewing box, crayons.

To start the operation rolling, Mom may assist the youngsters by cutting the foil box in sections from 3 to 6 inches long. Make three inch-long slits in one end of each tube section and overlap the cut edges with tape. One end of the tube will be tapered. Cover it with foil. Glue the egg, narrow end down, into the tapered end of the tube.

Foil Ears
If an Easter rabbit is being created, cut the ears of double-thick strips of foil about 4½ inches long. Pinch the end of the ears and glue or tape to the head. A triangle of crepe paper or felt forms the nose, glued on with the rabbit's whiskers that may be made from three or four very narrow strips of foil. Eyes are made from crepe paper, felt or fabric. Finish the rabbit with a pert bow tie or long ribbon necktie. Foil curls are the beauty mark of a doll or angel egg head or a little girl egg set on going to the Easter parade. Prepare body and egg head the same way as for the rabbit. Cut ¼ inch strips of double-thick foil, curling each strip around a pencil before attaching it to the head. A heart-shaped mouth may be drawn with crayon or cut from red crepe paper, or it may be a heart-shaped or round red sequin. Flutty eyelashes are cut from black paper or felt. Add a lace collar, tiny necklace or bright bow to make a shimmering doll for the Easter party table.

Making these egg heads should be lots of fun for the children.

EASTER TORTE IS AIRY, LIGHT

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
The Associated Press

Easter entertaining deserves this sweet and airy torte. It's a light-as-thistle down meringue filled with an orange custard and a topping of whipped cream.

Easter comes only once a year, so let's forget about weight-watching and eat something scrumptiously rich!

We think hot fragrant cups of tea, scented with lemon, perfect accompaniment to this torte. Try the two together and see if you don't agree. It's a combination we enjoyed way back in our Canadian childhood and we were delighted, when we tested this torte recipe, to find how delicious it is.

The interesting point about preparing this dessert is that you can whip up the meringue, put it in an oven that has been preheated, turn off the heat and forget the whole thing for the next five hours. Then open the oven door and you'll see the meringue beautifully set with a faint tawny tinge. The four yolks from the whites used in the meringue are put into the orange filling.

Stowaway Torte
Ingredients: 4 egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ¾ cup sugar, Orange Filling, ½ cup heavy cream, confectioner's sugar, vanilla.

Method: Pre-heat oven to very hot (450 degrees). Beat the egg whites, salt and cream of tartar together in a large mixing bowl with rotary beater (hand or electric) until frothy. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating very vigorously by hand or at high speed with electric mixer, until meringue holds very still glossy peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Spread bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate generously with butter. Turn meringue into buttered pie plate and spread evenly, but making a slight well in the center. Place in pre-heated oven, then turn off heat at once. Allow to stand in turned-off closed oven, without opening door, for 5 hours. Fill with cool Orange Filling and refrigerate until serving time. (Filling may be "runny" when first added but it will set during refrigeration and cut well.) Top with whipped cream—sweeten with a smidgen of confectioner's sugar and vanilla—and serve.

Orange Filling
Ingredients: 4 egg yolks, ¼ cup sugar, salt, ½ cup strained orange juice, grated rind of 1 orange.

Method: Beat the egg yolks until they are thickened and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in sugar and a dash of salt, then add orange juice and beat enough to combine. Cook in top part of double boiler, over hot (not boiling) water until thickened. Stir in orange rind. Cool and spoon into well in meringue.

ASK PLANS FOR COLLEGE WORK

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority Thursday designated a Pottstown firm to prepare plans and specifications for improvements at West Chester State Teachers College, Chester County.

The firm of Sanders and Thomas will plan installation of a new heating plant and expansion of utilities in a project costing $838,000.

The GSA said new dormitory buildings and a music center planned on campus are being designed by Henry D. Dagit and Sons, Philadelphia.

The authority also awarded a contract of $178,668 to the Sheris Co., Washington, D. C., for supplying kitchen and cafeteria equipment for new buildings at Embreeville State Hospital.

MAUNDY MONEY GIVEN BY QUEEN

ST. ALBANS, England (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip Thursday handed out "maundy money"—the traditional royal Easter offering to aged poor folk—at the 900-year-old abbey here.

The custom dates back to the Middle Ages when, every Maundy Thursday, English sovereigns distributed money, food and clothing to as many old men and old women as the monarch had years of age.

Yeomen of the Royal Guard, in colorful gold and scarlet uniforms, escorted the Queen and her husband into the abbey. Officials in the procession were draped with towels to symbolize the times when a sovereign washed the feet of the poor.

The queen, who will be 31 years old on Sunday handed out purses to 31 old men and 31 old women from the St. Albans diocese.

Each received three purses of especially minted Maundy money. In the first lot was one pound 15 shillings—$4.90—for each woman; and two pounds five shillings—$6.30—for each man. Then came a purse containing one pound—$2.80—in lieu of clothing; and a purse containing 31 pence—35 cents.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—When Robert Briscoe, the Jewish mayor of Dublin, Ireland, visits Philadelphia next week he will have an unique honor guard and security force. Half the policeman appointed for this duty are Irishmen; half are Jews.

PAY TOLLS WITH OWN CURRENCY

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—The Suez Canal Authority Thursday temporarily authorized ships to pay canal tolls in the currency of their own countries.

This was the system used before the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt last November.

Officials said this form of payment will be accepted until the end of April, to give shipowners adequate time to conform with new regulations requiring payment from May 1 in specified currencies.

The specified currencies are Norwegian, Swedish and Danish crowns, Belgian francs, Italian lire, German marks and Dutch

PRETTY WOMAN BEATEN TO DEATH

NEW YORK (AP)—A shapely young woman, her face bludgeoned beyond recognition, died Thursday two hours after police found her lying in a lover's lane in a quiet, residential section of Brooklyn.

Police said that she probably had been thrown out of a moving car after being beaten. There was guilders for ships of those nations; Indian rupees for Indian ships; and U.S. and Canadian dollars and Swiss francs for ships of all other nations.

no immediate identification. The victim "must have been a beauty," officials said as they issued her description: About 25 years old, 5 feet 7, a fine figure, 120 pounds, grey eyes and light brown hair.

She was clad in an expensive full length black seal coat and blue wool dress. On her left hand was a pink glove. The other glove, her shoes and pocketbook were missing.

Police found her after receiving an anonymous telephone tip that a "woman is in trouble."

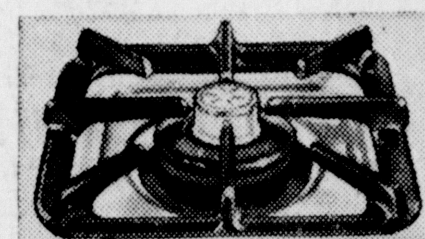

The spot is a block from an express highway, in the Bay Ridge section which faces upon New York harbor. Neighbors said the area street is a favorite trysting area.
